Game Summary:

Team Timeout:

"No chance in hell, they are going to get blown out" was the talk before the game for Poo Bears winning this game, missing their best player on offense and defense. Trick or treat! Gifted with a fill in player from the previous game, the Poo Bears shock their opponent with a win, extending their winning streak to two games.

First Responders give up two goals late in the first period but twice climb back into this game, yet can never tie it up as they get their scoring chances but can't match the timely scoring of their opponent, to see thier two game winning streak halted.

Marty Makarewicz shows flashes of his past self with some killer timely goal scoring with 2-goals, both times adding some insurance for his team to break away from a close game.

Leo Trombley fills in the role as his team's playmaker as he sets up his team's last three goals to lead his team on offense.

Pedro Fontes sets up his team's first two goals, as he extends his points streak to four games.

Ray Nickerson scores after a four game scoring drought.

Goalie Sean Roach stands his ground (especially in the third period) to make sure his team's surprising lead holds up, making some key timely saves in a close game, preserving a surprising win for his team.
