Game Summary:

First Responders extends their winning streak to two games, as they are starting to look more and more like a complete team, getting balanced scoring, strong defense, and outstanding goaltending. All three components coming together now will go a long way in this team's success. After getting back to their winning ways, Tommy Guns offense dries up as they can't solve that brick wall in net who was outstanding all game. They may be scoring a lot of goals in bunches in games for easy wins, but the jury is still out on this team when they are locked into a tight defensive game with an opponent or face a hot goalie. Still, they are a dangerous team with an offense that can break out at any time during a game (and very quickly as well).

Mike O'Neill has not been the "record breaker" player this season as he has gone multiple games between scoring with no points on the game sheets. However, his goal late in the first period giving his team a two goal lead helped up for the win. If this team is going to win a championship this season, it may well come down to Mike stepping up his game on a consistent basis being a dangerous threat each shift and joining the elite snipers of the league rather than settling into that infamous "got potential" player.

Joe Carlton looks to have settled into his game on defense as he keeps factoring into his team's offense from defense, scoring a sweet goal early in this game. He continues to make plays looking confident on the rink, having a big impact on his team's defensive depth.

Paul Firicano scores the only goal for his team, extending his point scoring streak to three games.

Another head-to-head goalie matchup (the sequel) showcasing how good the goalies can be in this league when given team support, as Dave Giusti and A J Larabee matched save for save all game, as Dave was the best player in this game, stopping 29 out of 30 shots faced, while A J (after a momentary mental lapse..... always stand in front of the ball AJ, never to the side) stopped 26 out of 28 shots faced. Well done both of them!
