Tommy Guns

Game Summary:

Team Timeout:

Tommy Guns wins their second straight game without their captain, as their first line steps up on the offense taking over this game. With the win, Tommy Guns sets up a showdown against First Responders next week to determine the second seed playoff bye team and the third place playoff seed.

The Revolution's slow start in this game is a deficit they never recover from, giving up two early goals, can't keep up with their opponents offense, have too many defensive zone turnovers, and lose two players during this game to injuries, as they lose their second straight game.

Patrick Spencer finds some open space, breaking open this game in the second period (scoring back to back goals nine seconds apart) to score a hat trick while setting up 2-goals, as he factors in on five of his team's six goals.

Mike Duggan maintains his lead atop the leading scorers race with another multi-point performance with 2-goals and 2-assists.

Paul Firicano returns to action and makes an immediate impact this game, playing a lot of minutes with his team short-handed on defense, scoring the game winning goal while setting up 2-goals.

Jonathan Caffarella has his second straight strong game in providing some secondary scoring for his team, as he assists on two goals, giving him 5-assists in his last two games, since returning from an extended stint on IR.

Colleen O'Connell scores her first goal of the season from the point, as she accomplishes scoring a goal before seven other players on defense in the league, including you Naz! Way to go Colleen, showing the guys that the girl's got game.

Dan Poirier Sr continues to produce for his team, with 1-goal and 1-assist, as he now is tied for the team lead in goals scored.
