Game Summary:

Team Timeout:

After seeing their seven game winning streak halted last week, Poo Bears gets back on track to start another winning streak, as they have their offense going all game, while smothering their opponent with team defense.

Cam-A-Lot is in this game halfway through this game, yet they lose their third straight game, due to two team issues they have not been able to overcome all season; losing their best player on offense to a season injury, and not having any consistency with a full roster of players showing up.

The key player of this game was Rob Sheridan picking his spots on offense when it was needed that turned a tie close game into a two goal lead during the second period that swung the momentum for his team; scoring 2-goals, both sniper shots top corner from two different angles.

Pedro Fontes gets back to scoring goals rather than setting them up, as he continues his season long consistency of scoring multiple goals, by scoring 2-goals in this game and be a dangerous threat out on the rink.

Dave Costa gets into the offense from defense, setting up three goals, as he has a solid playmaker game that saw him only have 1-assist in his last four games.

Naz makes plays when they matter on his team's last two goals to break this game open, setting up both goals as he remains in the top ten in scoring for defensemen. The League office is looking into whether his second assist should be taken away with his blatant calling out of "get me the assist" before the goal was scored on grounds of "self promotion to the refs."
