Game Summary:

Team Timeouts:

Phoenix Rising gets back to their winning ways, winning three of their last four games in a rout as they continue to remain near the top of the standings.

Azores Express loses their second game in the last three played, giving up a lot of goals in the process, as thier early season stingyness in goals against has shown some cracks in the foundation.

Garvin Chan has a break out game on offense, factoring in on five of his teams seven goals scored with 2-goals and 3-assists making a big jump up the leading scorers race.

Matty Iannello is the playmaker this game, setting up five goals and has the biggest weekly jump in the leading scorers race, moving into the top ten (welcome back Matty!).

After an impressive previous season and having a slow start on offense this season, Eddie Chin finally scores his first goal of the season.

Tony Mastrocola scores a goal in his second straight game, keeping his goal scoring streak hot, as he walks down the yellow brick road to beat the goalie.

Gary Goodwin scores his team's only goal
